PETITION PRESENTED FOR LIGHT

Mrs. Ralph C. Dunn and Mrs. George E. Eldridge appeared before Mattapoisett Selectmen at their regular meeting and presented them with a petition for an overhead traffic light at the intersection of Prospect Road and Route 6.

Inspired by the recent accident at this intersection, the people of the area collected the signatures from their neighborhoods. Mrs. George E. Eldridge surveyed the Prospect Road section, Miss Mary Tinkham and Mrs. Donald Nahigyan the Randall Road area, and Mrs. Ralph Cunn collected signatures at Point Connett.

Mattapoisett Selectman have forwarded the petition to the proper authorities in the Massachusetts Highway Department for consideration, and any further action will have to come from them as the road concerned is Route 6, the State highway.

POLICE CHIEF EXPLAINS ALCOHOLIC LAW

Mattapoisett Police Chief Alden Kinney said this week that many parents are unfamiliar with the law concerning alcoholic beverages in cars driven by minors. There have been many complaints received by police all over the State about minors driving with alcoholic beverages in their cars.

The provision of the law dealing with this violation states, "Whoever, being a minor and unaccompanied by his parent or legal guardian, operates a motor vehicle upon a public way, knowing that there is any alcoholic beverage, as defined in section one of Chapter 138, in such a vehicle or on his person, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $50.00."

Under the same law the license of a violator can be suspended for a period of 3 months. In such cases the owner of the vehicle is required to appear at a hearing to show cause "why the registration of his motor vehicle shall not be revoked for allowing an improper person to operate it."

Chief Kinney wants to stress the fact that

DANCE TO BE FRIDAY

Mattapoisett's Republican Town Committee completed plans for the dance to be held this Friday, August 28th, in the K of C Hall in Mattapoisett on Route 6. Mrs. Charles B. Dunn, chairman, reported on the arrangements and announced that Lionel Ponte and his orchestra would play for dancing. Hours will be from 9 to 1. Tickets are available from Town Committee members and will also be available at the door.

Speaking on behalf of his candidacy, Mr. Leonard S. Dodge of Rochester told of his qualifications for the office of Representative of the 6th Plymouth District. In the question and answer period, he replied to specific questions concerning Sales Tax schemes and the pay raise that the legislators voted themselves in defiance of the voters (which will appear as a referendum on the ballot). He stated that he would carefully consider any sales tax proposals and that he would be willing to serve

A candidates' night has been proposed for the three towns of Rochester, Marion and Mattapoisett. Chairman David Haley said that he would meet with representatives of the other towns to see what can be arranged. He read a list of communications from various candidates.

Mr. Robert Walker, chairman of the Finance Committee, was not present so plans for the financial drive were not discussed. Voting lists have been prepared for use in this campaign.

Telephone reminders to voters on election day were planned.

For the coming primary on September 10th, Mrs. Giles H. Dunn, 758-2810, and Mrs. Raymond Armbruster, 758-2891, volunteered use of their cars to transport people to the polls.

VOTE NOW - PAY LATER EDITORIAL

Every action has an equal and opposite reaction. The scientists using this basic law are reaching for the moon. Politicians are propelled by similar superheated gasses. This will be a week of carefully controlled blasts of emotion, promises and brilliantly colored descriptions of the past four years. There will be many tales pinned on donkeys.

Fortunately, when the last overstuffed phrase is forgotten even by the orator who hired it written, two basic paths will be open to the voters of this country for the first time in more than 30 years. The choices are simple: (1) Do Americans want to be cared for, cradle to grave, by a "compassionate" government, or, (2) Do Americans want to control their own lives, pay their own way and maintain a Republic?

To choose the latter, is to halt a trend which is speeding the United States into a one party system which is socialism. It is a hard choice because it demands responsibility. It means that contemporary Americans must stop squan-dering money on themselves which rightfully belongs to the next two generations. It is the difficult choice for it necessitates facing facts.

The Johnson administration is committed to accelerated inflation as economic policy. It is committed to a guarantee of the Communist base in Cuba. It is committed to a structure built during the Kennedy term - the Berlin wall, and a half baked and half hearted war in Viet Nam in which American servicemen are required to die for nothing. We have a no win policy everywhere. Most dangerous of all, we are committed through this administration to negotiations on disarmament which can strip this country of its defensive power and leave it under the mercy of a super force controlled by the U. N.

This next election will be free only in the sense of choice. The result may very well be the most costly ever contracted for. The famous Johnson economy drive is a myth, a propaganda triumph, to build the image of a humble man pattering around the halls of the White House turning out light bulbs. It masks the fact that federal spending, under this same man, is increasing at a rate of from 2.1% to 8.7% per month. All of these increased billions are borrowed money adding to a debt which will never decrease under the present administration - which depends on inflation

ON TRIP TO MAINE AND NOVA SCOTIA

Mrs. Walter S. Jason of Barstow Street, Mattapoisett has been for ths past two weeks on a vacation trip, touring the Maine coast and Nova Scotia. She accompanied her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Conquest, of Richmond, Virginia.

WRECKED IN THE ARCTIC
by Charles H. Purrington

February 2d, one of our crew died of scurvy. The crew was called on deck to make preparations for the burial. His body was wrapped in the United States flag, put upon a sled and dragged to an island called Dead Man's Island, then carefully laid on the ground. The crew covered his remains with rocks and over these an embankment of snow, and left him--free from all his trials and at rest, while we returned to take up our burdens, for how long no one knew.

The spring soon began to show itself, the weather grew a little warmer and everyone seemed more cheerful with thoughts of soon returning home.

In April the approach of spring was still more noticeable as the snow and ice began to thaw. The Indian snow huts gave place to the skin tents. Now a number of men were tortured with scurvy in their mouths and legs, but the natives caught for us a few walrus and seals and thereby averted this pestilence. The Era's crew left their vessel the 9th of May, on a whaling trip to Cumberland Straits, fifteen miles from here, while our crew busied themselves overhauling the vessel, cleaning, scraping, painting and otherwise preparing her for breaking out of the ice. My job was scraping ironrust from the hull.

Ducks and other birds were seen flying around us in large numbers. The ducks inhabit an island near and will soon lay their eggs. The ice is cracking in some places, but as yet there are no signs of getting out.

The long wished for month has come at last --June. The 10th of the month a wolf came aboard at midnight. Capt. Clisby tried to shoot him, but he fled. We are now getting three cakes of hardbread a day.

July 2nd, the two captains, with a boat's crew of seamen and Esquimaux women, went down to Duck Island and returned with a large quantity of eggs and a few ducks. We had a feast that day. The 10th, the whalers returned, but without a whale.

Now we tried to saw out the Era. The work occupied two or three days. We found it impossible to go through the ice and the vessel was driven upon the rocks; but the tide ebbed
